Investments

Through Q1 of 2020, month over month growth for investment activity declined for esports infrastructure. However, in May, the industry saw an uptick of investments by 14.9% from May 2019. The landscape of these investments have changed over time.

| 2020 (2019) | Infrastructure | Insight(s) |
|-------------|-----------------------|--|
| 3% (21%) | Streaming Services | <ul style="list-style-type: none">In 2019, live streaming is projected to grow at 19% over the next five years. Although some large investments were made to streaming platforms, more than half were focused on tools/capabilities that support streamers. |
| 8% (16%) | Tournament Organizers | <ul style="list-style-type: none">In 2019, these investments extended to mobile platforms that facilitate amateur tournaments, replicating pro leagues through third-party games. |
| 31% (10%) | Advertising | <ul style="list-style-type: none">In 2019, investments ranged from advertising agencies that support nonendemic brands seeking to gain exposure within the space to companies exploring new ways to get viewers more engaged teams.In 2020, investments in data collection and insights would increase opportunities for organizations to target new brands. Partnering with influencers and team members can create unique ways to share/support brands. |
| 15% (8%) | Business Services | <ul style="list-style-type: none">In 2020, investments in business services, such as talent acquisition, talent development, finance and technology, can help support scaling depending on the purpose of your organization. |
| 14% (5%) | Betting | <ul style="list-style-type: none">In 2020, with the US Supreme Court federal ruling in 2018, states have started legalizing sports betting. This ruling will create opportunities in esports. |

Investor Landscape

The who's who of esports investment has started to shift as more players come to the table. Entrenched organizations are starting to leverage their buying power to make strategic investments.

Through the early months of 2020, venture capital and private equity led deals were slow to start due to COVID-19:

- Limited opportunities to connect directly with clients
- Access to capital limited due to uncertainty in the markets

Strategic investors were active through the first two quarters of 2020:

- Long-term strategic considerations outweighed near-term uncertainty
- Utilize significant cash deposits sitting on balance sheets.
